Freedom, Truth and Disneyland

I have always been fascinated by Disneyland, also known as “The Happiest Place on Earth.” And while I have jokingly tweaked that mantra to, “The Most Exhausting Place on Earth,” Disneyland never ceases to capture my imagination. When someone walks through the turnstiles of the park, there is a commotion as children run around with undeniable excitement. There really is nothing better than experiencing a child shaking with joyful anticipation. Walking through the park is like stepping into an alternative reality. Disneyland expends a great deal of energy and dollars to maintain an image of perfection. The decorations are pristine, the crowd management is precise (with helpful Disney “cast” members available to show you exactly where to walk) and the landscaping is breathtaking (not a leaf out of place).

Cleanliness and order abound! If a child spills popcorn on the streets, inevitably someone swoops in to sweep it up. The bathrooms never have a scrap of paper on the floors. The store shelves are always stocked, the eateries never run out of soft drinks and the street-side vendors always have plenty of churros. The amazing thing is that the public almost never sees how this is accomplished — it just “magically” happens. I remain astounded at the level of organization required to pull this off 365 days a year. I would say that Disneyland runs with “military precision” but perhaps the term should be “Disneyland precision.” Maintaining the image of perfection is what Disneyland is all about. It’s great to escape to that world once in a while.

However, our reality is quite different. We face serious challenges in our lives. We have shortages of time and money (and energy). Our houses get dirty (those floors don’t clean themselves). Our lives get complicated (and rarely is there someone readily available to point the way forward). We need something substantially more than a temporary escape. We need the truth.

Jesus said, “If you continue in my word, you are truly my disciples; and you will know the truth, and the truth will make you free.” John 8:32

The truth is that life is difficult. The truth is that we are not perfect and our world isn’t either. The truth is that we are in bondage to sin and cannot free ourselves.

But there is more. The truth is that we have a God who loves us so completely that he has done everything to reach us. The truth is that the cross of Jesus Christ bridges the gap between our failures and God’s greatness. The truth is that we are not abandoned and certainly not alone. The truth is that God can overcome any challenge.

Walking out of Disneyland is a forced transition from one world to another. For me, it always feels like freedom. The little moments when God breaks through into the murkiness of our world are much more exciting than Disney’s manufactured perfection.

We have the opportunity to experience numerous little moments of God this month. In the coming days we will celebrate the return of Allen Quie from his summer sabbatical, the rite of Confirmation, Preschool Trunk or Treat, and so many more that we cannot anticipate. The truth is that life is so much better when we stop trying to escape the challenges before us. God does his best work in the muck. Let freedom ring!

Peace,

Pastor Rick

Prayers for Healing October 6 & 20

Loving God, I pray that you will comfort me in my suffering, lend skill to the hands of my healers, and bless the means used for my cure. Give me such confidence in the power of your grace, that even when I am afraid, I will put my whole trust in you; through our Savior Jesus Christ. Amen.

Whatever you are dealing with, prayer can help. The simple act of turning your worry and pain over to God is wonderfully powerful. You are invited to the holy experience of healing prayer. Join us at the altar directly following worship and your pastors will pray with you about anything on your mind. God has so much to offer!

Servant Outreach Ministry

Mission outreach continues in October
LUNCHES FOR LEARNING

Lunches for Learning began in Honduras in 2004. This marvelous ministry provides a meal at school so that children do not have to beg and may attend school. In addition they attempt, when needed, to furnish uniforms for those children. It is a joint effort of the school parents and the food provided by donations to Lunches for Learning. The story of the beginning of this ministry is awe-inspiring and we will continue to share it in future newsletters. For the month of October we are asking that you consider helping a child stay in school at the cost of $150 per year or $15 per month.

LUNCHES FOR Learning

Watch for additional details about how we may be involved with the children in a particular school in Honduras. This year-long ministry may hopefully evolve into a long-term partnership with Prince of Peace. Please contact Paula Sturgeon (480.236.6378, paulasturgeon@me.com) if you have questions or would like to get involved.

Beginning in May, POP started gathering water for First UCC Homeless Ministry in downtown Phoenix; we continued collecting water throughout the summer.

In September we loaded up a car trunk with collected water. When we delivered it and were shown the place where collected water was stored, there was only one bottle left for distribution! Thanks to all who donated water over the summer months!

THE MESSENGER is printed monthly for the purpose of informing members and friends of upcoming events, for sharing good news about our members and for sharing the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ through word and action.

Women's Bible Study (M&M's)

Tuesdays, 9:30 a.m.

We have begun a study of the faith traditions of our neighbors. And by neighbors, of course we are referring to our global neighbors. We are using a wonderful book, Honoring Our Neighbors Faith, published by Augsburg Fortress.

During this year-long journey we will develop a deeper understanding of our own Lutheran tradition and the history of our church. We will also find it fascinating to compare our tradition with those of our neighbors. Paula Sturgeon has led this class twice before with much success. It is also a fine class for those who cannot make a weekly commitment, yet wish to participate on a drop-in basis. You may reach out to Paula Sturgeon (paulasturgeon@me.com) for more information or to Janet DeJonge (janlde76@gmail.com) to get your name on our sign-up sheet. Women's ministry at Prince of Peace is a great place to be and all are welcome!

From Your Council President

by Debbie Nelson

It is officially fall and it feels a bit like the summer heat has left us alone. I think I just heard all of you breathe a sigh of relief. I want to provide a few highlights from our September Council meeting.

The 2019/20 Campus Maintenance Project (Post- POPIT) was unanimously approved by Council. This project will be funded from a surplus remaining in the Preschool Expansion Account. The following projects will be completed: replace the roof on the administration building, replace/repair the roof on Gangsei Hall, paint the administration building, replace the Preschool north playground, plus funds will be contributed to a Preschool Scholarship Fund. Thank you to the Preschool Expansion Committee (Janet DeJonge, Steve Edgar and Scott and Nancy Stevens) for their service on this team.

Council also approved sending Angela to a continuing education conference, the AYME Conference in Minneapolis, in October. The focus is on faith formation and educational leadership in ministry. This should prove to be an invaluable educational experience for Angela. She will return with a wealth of knowledge that she will share with the preschool staff.

A few weeks ago, the church staff, Nicole, Jayce and I attended a workshop led by Linda Staats. The intent for the workshop was to strengthen relationships and foundations as POP staff and key leaders; assess the gifts and passions of the staff and leaders to conduct an inventory of our ministries. Linda provided us with much insight, ideas and suggestions. It was time well spent!

We will kick off our stewardship campaign in October. I encourage you to consider, prayerfully and mindfully, your stewardship of the blessings you have received. Throughout the year, the stewardship ministry at POP will be about growing as disciples of Jesus, strengthening our faith practices and together encouraging generosity in the faithful stewardship of God's abundant blessings.

The next Council meeting is Tuesday, October 15 at 6 p.m. Congregants are welcome to attend. Peace to each of you.

News from our African Students

Prince of Peace continues its mission outreach to help support two students in Tanzania, Jackline John and Namayani Loisharwoki. The two graduated from MaaSae Girls Lutheran Secondary School and are continuing their post-secondary schooling. Jackline is studying Pharmacology at Kampal University and Namayani is going for a three-year nursing degree at Arusha Lutheran Medical Centre. Our scholarship support is $2,200 each.

Dear Prince of Peace Lutheran Church,

I greet you all in the name of Jesus Christ. I hope you're all fine. I am fine too, and I thank the almighty God for his grace.

I finished form six on May 2017 and on October 31 2017 I joined Diploma in nursing 3 years at Arusha Lutheran Medical Centre (ALMC), and I finished first year on September 2018. Now I am a second year student who started the end of semester 2 examination (certificate) from 2nd September 2019 up to 11th September 2019. On October 2019 I will be a third year student diploma who will conduct research in medical issues and finish diploma in nursing on August 2020. Nursing is calling and nursing is good as we meet the needs of the patient, client and community as a whole. My greater thanks is to you Prince of Peace Lutheran Church for sponsoring me and I am acquiring knowledge, skills and attitude to become a good nurse who will serve patients in body, spirit and mind. May almighty God bless you all and your families for your great love to me. Colossians 1:3-5, 9-10.

Yours faithfully

Namayani Loisharwoki

Dear Prince of Peace Lutheran Church,

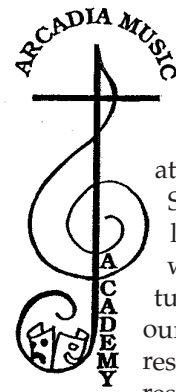

Greetings from Tanzania, it's my hope that you are all fine. My apologies that I didn't write to you for a long time. I have completed my A level education in 2017 on May, and I have joined university on September. I have been getting along with my studies and I have been doing well with my studies.

Here in Tanzania it's somehow raining and sunny sometimes, the weather is very favorable here. How is the weather there in your country? I would love to hear from you sometimes. As the LORD our GOD is guiding us, I am in good health in mentally, spiritually, and physically.

Greetings from my parents, they are very thankful for helping me to complete my education studies. For now I am looking forward to complete my university on 2020 in September. I am very happy about that. And hoping to get a good job that will help me paying my everyday bills and helping other people and also helping my parents and my siblings.

I am very thankful for everything that you have been doing for me to complete my studies. Our Lord is very merciful and I pray to God that he guides you and protects you and keeping you away from all diseases, every day that you wake up, you all be in good health and wealth. I LOVE YOU ALL

Yours sincerely,
Jacqueline John

On Sunday, September 29, 20 of Lynne McGinley's AMA piano students performed at Scottsdale Village Square, a senior living community. It was a great opportunity for us to share our talents with the residents and for the residents to be entertained by this fabulous group of pianists — ranging in age from 6 to 60+! Selections included classical songs from Beethoven and Brahms, ragtime, blues, as well as contemporary pieces ... and the room was overflowing! Two of the families provided refreshments following the performance for all of the students and residents. What a wonderful afternoon of giving back to our community!

Sew & Tie

Sew & Tie has a long tradition at Prince of Peace. The group has met Fridays for many years, assembling quilt tops into warm blankets to be donated to various organizations such as Interfaith Cooperative Ministries, Lutheran Social Services and Helen's Hope Chest where the quilts are distributed to those in need. Come join the group as they always welcome more hands in this ongoing project. We also welcome donations of gently-used sheets or any cotton fabrics.

Update from ELCA Missionary Kristin Engstrom in Senegal

Prince of Peace continues to be blessed with our partnership with ELCA Missionary Rev. Kristin Engstrom who serves as the Young Adult in Global Mission (YAGM) coordinator in Senegal. A new group of young adults arrived in Senegal in September to begin their one-year service and immersion experience. What follows is a blog post from Charlie as he describes a Senegalese welcome.

“Laughter is key here in Senegal. From what I am told, a good sense of humor is very important to our survival. Having a good attitude about learning to live in a new culture helps everyone adjust. But the Senegalese go beyond this sense of grace, it is ingrained into who they are. The people here love to joke! Most conversations I have experienced here start with a friendly banter, back and forth, quick and witty. For example, the YAGM group met one of the church youth, Albert, who loved to tease us about how we don’t know the local language yet. Sounds silly, but he was more than happy to welcome us to his country and encouraged us to start practicing with him.

Using humor and sarcasm is part of who I am, so I appreciate this communication style. I just can’t wait until my language skill gets better and I can respond! Teranga, teranga, teranga! This word, meaning hospitality in Wolof, is one of the most highly prized traditional values in Senegal. Considered a duty, people go out of their way to make you feel welcome. Ever since stepping off the plane, I have felt this sense of care surround me. I am a guest here right now, but I hope teranga is something I can carry with me back in the states and practice while I am in Senegal.

As a final thought, I encourage you to ponder how you welcome the stranger into your community, as I have been welcomed here so far. Do you make the effort to greet the passerby? Does humor act as a sense of inclusion or as an act of harm? How do you practice hospitality with visitors in your home and community?”

Faith Formation Tips for Home

by Audrey Cox

Caring Conversations — Family Dinner

One of the ways we pass on our faith and values to our kids is through caring conversations. If you're like our family, the hustle of the weekly schedule can really limit the time we spend around the table together. A recent survey conducted by Eckrich(R), a product of ConAgra Foods, found that 40 percent of American families eat dinner together only three or fewer times a week, with 10 percent never eating dinner together at all. Mealtimes are a great time to spend in quality conversation with your children and yes, teens too!

The website, www.thefamilydinnerproject.org, has lots of ideas for how to address the challenges of getting your family together for a meal as well as conversation starters and even games to break the ice.

This month, let's all work to find a way to increase the amount of times we have family dinner time and build the amount of caring conversation happening in our homes.
